

Inventory is one of the most expensive costs in operating a veterinary business. Trying to manage it is often one of the most frustrating parts of managing a business, yet it is also an area filled with huge opportunity. In this one-day workshop, you'll learn proven processes to reduce inventory costs, and improve profitability and efficiency. This interactive session will explore practical approaches that can be implemented in any practice. We will also explore prescription management to meet changing customer needs. Turn inventory management from a headache into a part of your practice that can make a lasting, positive effect for your business and clients. You will walk away with knowledge, proven approaches and tools you can implement in your practice immediately.

Date & Time Thursday, July 13, 2017
8am - 4:30pm

Location Renaissance Philadelphia Airport Hotel
Philadelphia, PA

What's Included? 8 CE Credits Hours
Instruction, Lunch and Educational Materials

Workshop Cost FREE for Veterinary Business
School students
$295 for non-students
$250 each for 2 or more students (must be from the same practice)

About the Instructor

Angela Schneider CVT, CVPM

Angela has over 14 years of veterinary technician, practice management and distribution experience. In 2005, she was awarded Wisconsin's Technician of the Year. More recently she earned her certification in veterinary practice management (CVPM). During her career in the veterinary field she has become one of the industry leaders regarding topics such as inventory management and product marketing. She has also written articles for multiple veterinary publications and is presently a member of VetPartners, the American Animal Hospital Association (AAHA) and the Veterinary Hospital Manager's Association (VHMA).

To Register go to www.OculusInsights.net.

For more information contact us at info@OculusInsights.net.

Our immersive Business Summits bring together high-level thought leaders and influential business people from outside and inside the veterinary industry. It is a forum for strategic business education and discussion on the most pressing industry issues, and offers unmatched opportunities to network with your peers. Our One Day Workshops provide a deep dive into one subject. You will walk away with practical information and tools you can put in practice immediately.

Four Day Veterinary Business Summit

An intense immersion program you don't want to miss.

Date: September 10 - 14th, 2017
Location: Austin, TX
South Congress Hotel
www.southcongresshotel.com

Preparing for the Future - Be an Educated Buyer & Seller

One Day Workshop

Date: September 16th, 2017
Location: Milwaukee, WI
Milwaukee Marriott West
Date: October 25th, 2017
Location: Tampa, FL
Venue TBD

For more Programs, visit us at www.OculusInsights.net.

Our business partners supporting the veterinary industry, thank you!

