

Full Management Packages

Sometimes our veterinary practices have to make a one-time big decision. They are often expensive and have a risky outcome. The price of failure can be very high. On top of that, we are usually alone in the process and would value someone with experience and expertise to help us navigate through this unique challenge.

Oculus Insights can help you make a better decision with a more certain outcome based upon our years of experience, education and veterinary industry knowledge.

Here are some of the recent projects we have successfully completed for our clients:

- Full practice management
- Evaluation, purchase and implementation of a new practice management software system
- Review and implement an inventory management system
- Evaluate the sales of practices to ensure the sale or offer prices were appropriate
- Hire practice managers
- Assist with practice mergers
- Develop operational efficiencies
